Letter of Condolence – Croydon Tram crash

"The All Party Parliamentary Light Rail Group are deeply shocked and saddened at the dreadful accident on the Croydon Tramway. Our thoughts and prayers are with the families of those who died and are seriously injured and we also praise the emergency services for their response.

"There will be a full investigation into what led to its awful crash, both to explain what happened and to reassure passengers of the safety of this and other systems. This incident is an awful tragedy the causes of which need to be full understood, but it is also important to remember that light rail is one of the safest forms of transport with serious incidents very rare".

Trams and Light Rail are amongst the safest vehicles to travel in, the last major accident was in Glasgow 1959,

Greg Mulholland MP
Chairman
All Party Parliamentary Light Rail Group

These meetings are by invitation only, where MPs, Stakeholders etc., within the Light Rail industry and invited members of the Public will have a chance to discuss debate and raise questions concerning Light Rail.
