All-Party Parliamentary Groups and GDPR: Important Information

APPLRG's arrangements for handling personal data.

By now you've probably seen it everywhere, read about it, talked about it...and now it's finally here, GDPR arrives this month!

We are writing to let you know that we have updated our Privacy Policy. This is part of our ongoing commitment to be transparent about how we use your data and keep it safe.

We will never sell your data and will keep your details secure. Your data will only ever be shared with the event sponsors if you allow us to do so.

Here at the Applrg we would like to tell you about how we handle your data.

We store your data in a secure stand-alone system. Any data listed on other formats (such as business cards) are carefully filed and stored.

All data on the Applrg data base is only used to advertise events listed on Applrg website. If you do not want to receive further emails from us, then simply return the email marked unsubscribe and you will automatically be removed from our data system.

If you attend an event which is sponsored, the sponsor does Not receive the guest list (which includes the attendees name, company name and work email address) following the event. However, we will remind you of this after every event you attend and if you DO want your contact details passed to the sponsor, just let us know and this will be passed to them.

All our data is collected organically and from those attending The Applrg events, business cards that are handed to us at our events and/or if we follow a referral from one of our members and ask permission form your office for the relevant email address to send the event information to.

All information we receive is given voluntary.

Following reading this, if you would like to delete your data from our system then please email unsubscribe to applrguk@aol.com If you wish to talk to us more about GDPR or about how we use your contact information please email us or call to any of the contact detail at the bottom of the page

We are now updating our contact list in compliance with guidance given and if you wish to opt in and be contacted for further events, please send an e-mail to the Secretariat at the address below

25th May 2018

These meetings are by invitation only, where MPs, Stakeholders etc., within the Light Rail industry and invited members of the Public will have a chance to discuss debate and raise questions concerning Light Rail.
